INTRODUCTION

Food is the basic need in life and it plays a vital role in the formation of cultural, social and islamic practice of a community. These days, muslim consumers are more demanding on the authenticity of halal or haram in chosing for their foods. However, the sensitivity, perception and attitude of consumers towards the halal awareness are promptless.

The permissible limit of alcohol content in foods and drinks, the differences between khamr and alcohol and the use of gelatin in medical products, cosmetics and food products are among the issues consistently surface related to fraudulent in halal industry. Hence, the aforementioned issues justify the conduct of a course entitled Halal Training: Introduction To Alcohol and Gelatin 2015.

The aims to provide the public a better insight on the concept of halal pertinent to the alcohol and gelatin characteristic, issues and research relate.
